bestery bearing upon the Rip Raps the rebels have mounted one eleven-inch columbiad and four "other cannen." The iron-clad steamer Morrimae is said to have been successfully launched yesterday. She has ten guns on deck, four on each side, and pivot guns on the stem and the stern. Probably one of these fine nights ahe will pay us a visit; but she will find we understand how to receive distinguished visiters. This makes my information, published some time ago, correct, when I stated she would be let off the stocks on or about the list of Vabruary.

will pay us a visit; but she will find we understand how to receive distinguished visiters. This makes my information, published some time ago, correct, when I stated she would be let off the stocks on or about the list of Pebrusary.

The greatest activity prevails among the rebels in throwing up additional defences. The negroes state that all of the guns in position below Sewall's point are to be hauled to a place opposite the Rip Raps; but the roads are in such a horrible condition that it is impossible to transport them at present.

A rebel flag of truce came to Hampton this noon, in charge of a rebel colonel, who seems to be of Polish origin. When Colonel Weber was informed of the fact, he had the party detained, and sent the letters to General Wool. The General at once despatched Colonel T. J. Grane and Major Le Grand R. Cannon, of his staff, to meet the rebels. Colonel Weber also accompanied the party, and it was a flimsy pretext, as usuat, that prompted the rebels to come on a spying expedition. It is asserted that Magruder—being sober, for the first time in a long period—wished to ascertain whether our troops still occupy this point, and for this reason despatched a flag of truce to Hampton. Whatever knowledge these spies have received they are welcome to.

The troops from the transport Constitution are still encamped upon the beach, insumnch as the vessel is at present more of a hospital than anything else. Two hundred and fifty cases of the measles are reported on board, and Dr. Cuyler, medical director of the department, asserts that the entire command will be affected therewith. Colonel Shepley left last night for Washington to find out what is to be done with the men. General Wool deserves great praise for his humanity in allowing the troops to disembark; and in providing them with provisions and stores he is not governed by any instructions from the department at Washington, but acts on his own responsibility. It is a crying shame and disgrace on the part of our government to run into such extrava

TROOPS AND REBELS—THE NEW MEXICANS LOYAL TO THE UNION.

E. O. Perrin, Esq., has just returned to the city after an absence of about seven months in New Mexico. He has visited Port Larned, Fort Union and Fort Craig, and been in Santa Fe a long time. He was a month in Albuquerque, where Kit Carson is in command, with a regiment of New Mexicans one thousand strong, well armed, fully equipped and well drilled.

The Texans were reported by the spies and scouts, about January 1, to be approaching Albuquerque, Fort Craig and Santa Fe simultaneously. Kit Carson has no doubt of his ability to take care of Albuquerque, the central grand depot of all our stores. Colonel Carby, the commandant of the whole Department of New Mexico, was ready to march from Fort Craig to retake Fort Fillmore. He had under his command one thousand regulars and some two thousand New Mexican volunteers. At Santa Fe there were two companies of regulars and two companies of volunteers.

The New Mexicans, generally, are loyal and to be re-companies of volunteers.

The New Mexicans, generally, are loyal and to be relied upon. Some few soccessionists are among them—
Southern men, from Texas and Arkansas—but they are overwhelmed by the loyalty of the country, or by the

The entire United States force in New Mexico is about five thousand, which can be largely increased by the militia, a portion of which are armed and roady at call.

The Texass were reported to be on the Pecce river, and crossing the Jornada the last of December in large force. The Pecce division was under Major Eibley, late of the United States Army, and the other, on the Jornada, under Colonel Baylor, of Texas. The Indian spice stated their number to be "large." But Colonel Camby is satisfied that he can protect the Territory and drive them back. He has the entire conditions of the people, both Americans and Mexicans.

Mr. Perrin reports the passage across the Plains to have been very cold, especially in the Ration Pass. There were met, it is believed, some 15,600 Indians of different tribes on the plains, the Cheyennes, the Arraphoe, Commanches and Klowas. Since the removal of the United States dragoons they frequently show signs of hostility. From the stage preceding that in which Mr. Perrin was they had taken flour and other provisions by force. They seized the mules, and would not let them go without the surreader of the provisions.

The plains were crowded with buffaloes as far up as Pawnee Fork. The season had been mild and the grass good, which had kept the buffaloes back from the south.

THE UNITED STATES GUNBOAT PLAMBEAU AND HER COMMANDER.

[From the Boston Peet, Feb. 1.]

It is to be hoped the people of Great Britain are not as bitter in their feelings towards the United States as the inhabitants of the Provinces and of the British West India Islands. Capitain Croston, of the schooner Eureks, of Portland, who was wrecked on Elbow Key, January 10, and afterwards spent a week at Nassau, N. P., leaving there on the 20th, has arrived in Boston, and informs us that the hoeffilly of the people there is extreme. A Union man, known as such, can with difficulty walk the streets without being insulted. It has been stated that the United States gunboat Flamboau was prohibited from taking in coal at the depot established there by our government, while British and Southern vessels engaged in running the blockade, enjoy every facility in obtaining all the sopplies they wish.

While these facts are fully confirmed by Capitain C., he asserts positively that Lieutenant Temple, commanding the F., is unfit for his position. He laid at anchor at Nassau, doing nothing (the vessel needing no repairs) from the 14th to the 19th of January, and had also spent a week there only a short time previous, the vessels running in and out in the meantime, loaded with cotton, firearms, &c., apparently disturbing him but little. During his last visit there, the steamer Caroline, from Charleston, S. C., came in (on Saturday, January 18) with a cargo of one thousand bales of cotton. She ran alongside of ship Hiza Bonsail, a fine vessel built at Bath, Maine, but now owned at Charleston and bound to England, and discharged the entire cargo on board of her. The E. B., it will be recollected, brought out arms and ammunition from Europe, which formed the cargo of the steamer Isabel, quite recently arrived at Charleston.]

cargo of the steamer Isabel, quite recently arrived at Charleaton.]

Capt. C. states that he saw the Caroline for an hour or two before she entered the port, when some six or saven miles outside. The weather was good, and had the Fiambean ten on the atert a valuable prote might have been secured. Lisutenant Temple alterward expressed his mortification at her arrival while he was at anchor, accompanied with some comments on the impossibility of an effective blockade. On being informed, in the presence of Capt. Croston, that the Caroline had dipped her colors to him as she came in, he regretted that he had not noticed the fact, that he "might have returned the compliment." The American Consul, Samuel Whiting, Esq., objected to this remark, and advised him to resign his commission and return home, adding that he "would do less harm in South Carolina than on board of an American vessel."

less harm in South Carelina than on board of an American vessel."

Timothy Parling, Esq., a well known merchant at Nassau, formerly of Calais, Mo., informed Captain C. that at a dinner at his house, Lieutenant Temple said that if ordered to assist in the bombardment of Charleston, he "should obey, but with the same feelings as he should obey a command to fire on the city of Boston." This may have been only "after-dinner talk," not deliberate language, and Lieutenant Temple, who sailed on the 19th fer Port Royal, S. C., may be able to prove himself a true Union man at heart. Captain Croston states further that it was not necessary for the Flambeau to go to Key West for coal. She could have anchored outside of Nassau, alongskie of the coal latien vessels, and taken it on board with perfect safety. As to the Southern blockade, vessels were occasionally arriving at Nassau, but they were small, and escaped with difficulty from the Southern ports. A schooner arrived about the 20th, which had been three weeks in getting out of the narbor of St. J has, Fla.

The banks gain specie steadily, and will continue to do so until some of them think fit to trip up the speculators in gold by throwing some of their reserve upon the market. The increase of deposits is a good sign also. If government pursues a prudent course in regard to financial matters, and is not induced to deviate from the path of wisdom and expediency by unsound advice, our banks will soon be in a position to resume specie payments, and to realize profit on their investment in govern-ment securities. But it must be admitted that, if they prove so fortunate as this, they will have had a narrow escape out of the hands of the bullionist theorizers. If the bullionist theory is adopted the capital of the banks of New York, Philadelphia and Boston may as well be written off to profit and loss at once.

Money is in rather better demand to-day. Some of the lenders ask 7 per cent for call loans, and no borrower pays less than 6. Paper sells at 6 a 7, when of the highest grade. No cause is assigned for the increased inquiry for loans, and it is probably accidental.

Foreign exchange rose to-day. All the leading bankers have asked 114, and a few were un-willing to sell large amounts at that figure. Relatively to gold, exchange is about 1/2 per cent too low, assuming our foreign exchanges to be at par. Francs are quoted at 4.95 a 5.00, with a light Stocks opened buoyantly this morning, and an advance of ¼ a ½ per cent was realized on most speculative descriptions. The supply of stock, however, proved in excess of the demand, and prices fell off a shade as the call progressed. Conflicting rumors from Washington keep stock speculators in a ferment, and, though there is a general confidence in the patriotism and common sense of Congress, the pro. tracted delays which have occurred are creating a great deal of impatience. Between the boards the market was steady, and remained so, without much activity, throughout the afternoon. The only change of any consequence which took place to-day was a decline of 3½ per cent in Illinois Cen. tral, which was caused by a rumor that government would decline to pay the company for the transportation of troops and munitions of war to Cairo, on the ground that the land grant compels them to carry troops and army stores free of charge. At the close the market was called unsettled, the following being the last quotations:-United States 6's, registered, 1881, 871/4 a 88; do. 6's, coupon, 1881, 88¾ a ¾; do. 5's, coupon, 1874, 78¾ a ¾; Indiana 5's, — a 76; Virginia 6's, 51¼ a 52; Tennessee 6's, 42¾ a 43; North Carolina 6's, 62 a ¾; Missouri 52% a %: Chicago, Burlington and Quincy. 61 a %: Milwaukee and Prairie du Chien, 15% a 201/4; Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati, 1031/4 a 105; New York Central 7's, 1876, 102 a -; Eric third mortgage bonds, 931/2 a 94; Michigan Central 8's, first mortgage, 99 a 100; Illinois Central bonds,

It is reported that Mr. Morrill, of Maine, a member of the House Committee of Ways and Means, will to-morrow move a substitute for the Treasury note bill reported by a majority of the committee, and that the feature of his substitute will be the omission of the legal tender clause. The House and the country will be very much obliged indeed to Mr. Morrill if he will show how he proposes to raise money without making the new Treasury notes a legal tender. If he can do this he will be rendering a substantial service to the country by moving his substitute, and we can promise him our hearty support. If he cannot show how money can be raised for the support of government withtempt to delay legislation that is urgently needed, and to distract councils now sadly in want of harmony, must be characterized as unjustifiable and disgraceful to a loval man. More than any other man in the country Anson P. Morrill is responsible for the unfriendly feelings which are entertained in Europe for the United States. He had better rest content with this distinction, and leave to Mr. Vallandigham the glory of trying to break down the
